Had Armor Under Clothes as They Shot Up Court

By The Associated Press.

Wyntheburg, Va., May 6.—"It don't take but mighty little of the right stuff to turn bullets," was one of Floyd Allen's first remarks to his guard after his capture at the Hillsville court house shooting on March 14.

Witnesses at his trial today testified that he was his retort when his guard expressed surprise that the old mountaineer had not been wounded until after he had left the court room where a judge, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, juror and bystander had been killed.

In the prosecution's attempt to show that Allen came prepared for the shooting and wore a steel or iron breast plate, witnesses testified that at least a dozen shots were fired at Allen by men only a few feet away and that none took effect.

INTERURBAN GRADERS START WORK AT WACO

GANGS EXPECT TO BEGIN OPERATIONS THIS MORNING—RIGHT OF WAY IS SETTLED.

Announcement has been made that actual work on the Waco end of the Waco-Dallas interurban will begin this morning. Teams and workmen are stationed about two miles east of the city and are waiting for the signal to begin actual construction.

A large number of teams and men will be employed in grading and getting the ground in shape for the laying of the rails. It is thought that the final arrangements regarding the right of way matter that has given the local interurban committee considerable trouble has been settled to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, and it now remains only for the interurban people to begin work on the line.

It is the intention of the interurban company to complete the line and have it in operation between Waco and Dallas by November of next year or sooner if possible. Work has been in progress on the Dallas end of the line for more than two weeks, and at Hillsboro, a large force of men and teams are working on the roadbed. With the beginning of operations on the Waco end of the line, the work will have reached enormous proportions and will be rushed to completion as fast as money and men can do so. The various gangs on different sections of the line will work toward a central point.

DAISY GRACE CHARGED WITH INTENT TO KILL

Indictment Alleging Murderous Assault Upon Her Husband Is Returned.

By The Associated Press.

Atlanta, May 6.—Mrs. Daisy Grace was indicted today on a charge of assault with intent to murder her husband, Eugene H. Grace, whom she is accused of having shot in their home here on March 13. An early trial is expected. Her lawyers will have her released on bond.

The indictment is the result of the sensational shooting which has not entirely been cleared up by the police. Grace was found alone in the locked house by detectives who had been summoned by a mysterious telephone call. He was unconscious with a bullet in his back. When taken to a hospital and revived he accused his wife of shooting him. She was arrested, held in jail for some time, weeks ago she was given a preliminary hearing and bound over to the grand jury.

Mrs. Grace denies all charges against her and declares she thinks a burglar attacked her husband. Mr. Grace is at his mother's home near here. Several physicians have said he could not recover. He is paralyzed from the waist down.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS TO PRECEDE BIG REVIVAL

Hope to Complete Work in Day. Special Services Begin Sunday at Methodist Church.

At a mass meeting at the Austin Avenue Methodist church, Monday night, at which a number of the pastors of the different denominations attended, it was decided to call a meeting Wednesday night at the Austin Avenue Methodist church, when the final plans for the big protracted meeting will be perfected. The choir members also selected and practice will begin. A number of well known singers from different cities will be engaged to assist in the singing.

Beginning Friday morning a religious census of the city will be taken. The local pastors of the different churches will have charge.

It is thought that the work of securing the names of all the church members of the city may be completed within a day. Those in charge of this work are requested to meet at the Austin Avenue Methodist church Friday morning, and prepare for the task. Great preparations are being made for the meeting, which begins Sunday.

FIGHT TO DISSOLVE STEEL TRUST BEGINS

GOVERNMENT ATTACKS LARGEST SUBSIDIARY, AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE.

Charged With Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade; Two Witnesses Testify.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 6.—The government began its suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation today by attacking one of its largest subsidiaries, the American Steel and Wire company, with the intent to prove that since its organization in 1899 down to a year ago it had been a party to pools, agreements or understandings to restrain trade. The testimony taken before Henry P. Brown of Philadelphia, special commissioner in the case, was given by two witnesses, Wallace Buel of Port Chester, N. Y., a retired independent wire manufacturer, and George E. Holton, president of the British Horse Shoe company of Chateaufort, Pa., who with others was indicted and fined in the so-called "wire pool" cases about a year ago after a plea of nolle contendere.

Seven Pools Named. There are seven of the alleged pools named in the government's complaint. Holton testified as to the formation of the American Horse Shoe association in January, 1901, three months before the organization of the United States Steel corporation. The association, he said, was to fix the price of horseshoes and was composed of nine companies, among them the American Steel and Wire company and his own concern. These, he swore, entered a pool agreement, a copy of which he produced, which provided penalties of not less than $500 nor more than $1000 for the failure of any member to abide by it. The agreement was continued, he said, down to March, 1909, when the American Steel and Wire company withdrew.

Met Informally. Members of the association met informally, however, after the dissolution of the pool. About a month after the New York grand jury inquiry into the general wire pool was begun last year, the witness asserted, they were abandoned, on the advice of E. E. Jackson, the "supervisor" of this and other wire pools, who was himself indicted and fined.

During the existence of the formal agreement, Holton testified it was Jackson's duty to name the concern which should accept bids of the United States government.

LYNCHING, VIOLATION OF FEDERAL LAW, AIM

MOTION OFFERED AT METHODIST CONFERENCE WOULD HAVE NATION SUPERVISION THUS.

"American Press" Censured for Printing "Exaggerated Reports" of Mexican Revolt.

By The Associated Press.

Minneapolis, May 6.—After a day of business in which numerous resolutions came before the quadrennial convention of the Methodist Episcopal church, many of which were killed on the floor, the convention tonight heard addresses on home missions and church and extension, among the speakers being Dr. Robert Forbes, Dr. C. M. Boswell and Ward Platt, all of Philadelphia.

Among resolutions presented to the convention today were: Commending the action of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in settling their dispute with the railroads by arbitration.

Memorializing congress to pass a law giving to the federal government supervision in the cases of negro lynchings and mob violence, among the speakers being Dr. Robert Forbes, Dr. C. M. Boswell and Ward Platt, all of Philadelphia.

Centuring the "American press" for printing "exaggerated reports" on revolutionary conditions in Mexico and commending the government for non-intervention.

Calling for an immediate report from the committee on state of the church for the proposal to withdraw paragraph 260, which places the ban on certain amusements.

All of these resolutions except the first were disposed of at least temporarily by the "non-consideration" vote of the conference.

Fight on Catholics. Another resolution was presented by the Rev. William Fry, a missionary from Chile, who protested against the action of the Ecumenical missionary conference in Edinburgh in declaring not proper the missionary enterprises being conducted in so-called Roman Catholic countries.

In a fierce speech in which he told of alleged opposition of the Catholics of the countries of South America to the work of Protestant missionaries, he asked that the resolution be passed immediately. Finally a substitute was adopted which places the resolution before a committee of five, to be reported on Wednesday. The conference then voted that the text of the Rice resolution be kept from the press until the report is completed.

Vincent Astor To Get Bulk of Family Estate

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 6.—Counsel for the family today made public the will of Col. John Jacob Astor, as drawn in this city in September last, only a few days after his marriage to Miss Madeline Talmadge Force, and approximately seven months before he perished with the sinking of the Titanic.

Son Gets Most. Vincent Astor, son who will come to age within the year, is made the principal beneficiary. Valuations of the estate run anywhere from $75,000,000 to $150,000,000.

Of trust funds of which there are three, there is $5,000,000 for the young widow, $5,000,000 for the colonel's young daughter, Muriel, the child of his former wife, $3,000,000 for the expected posthumous child of the present widow. This latter clause provides for "children other than his son Vincent and his daughter, Muriel."

Married Again?—Loses It All. No provision is made for the wife who divorced him; and if the young widow dies or marries again the $5,000,000 trust fund, together with the town house and other property left to her reverts to Vincent Astor. She receives, however, $100,000 outright without further stipulation; and until the income from trust fund comes available the trustees are to pay her an annuity of $200,000. There was an anti-austrial which is accepted in lieu of dowry. The amount has never been made public. Rumors have placed it at $5,000,000.

The colonel gives the trustees minute directions concerning investments, following almost word for word instructions of similar nature left by his father, William Astor.

Chief Prescott Adds Potato to Waco Fire Fighting Apparatus

By The Associated Press.

Waco, May 6.—Georgia's central city was busy today receiving the hosts of the Confederacy. Nearly two scores of special trains have arrived tonight, bringing in thousands of old soldiers and their friends for the annual reunion which opens tomorrow morning. Camp John B. Gordon now looks like an army post, but it is amply able to provide for the thousands expected to arrive during the night and tomorrow.

As a prelude to the veteran's gathering, the Sons of Veterans opened their reunion tonight amid the blare of trumpets and the roll of drums. The meeting was preceded by a street parade.

A movement to request the Daughters of the Confederacy to discontinue the presentation of "crosses of honor," on the ground that many who did not take part in the battles of the Civil war have received these emblems of valor which were meant for the veterans really on the ground.

The main feature today was the presentation to Mrs. Alexander B. White of Washington, president general of the Daughters of the Confederacy, of the chair in which Jefferson Davis was seated at his reception here in 1877, when he made his farewell address to his former soldiers.

"ELEMENTS AGAINST US" SAY ENGINEERS

LOUISIANA'S REMAINING DIKES AGAINST WATER WALL STAND BUT NOT VERY FIRMLY.

Negroes Won't Work in Rain Without Whiskey and Then Exercise But Lightly.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., May 6.—"It looks like the elements are against us." This statement made late today by Maj. F. M. Kerr, chief of the Louisiana state board of engineers, sums up the principal chapter of the story of the desperate fight that is being waged by day and by night to save Louisiana's remaining levees from the ravages of the Mississippi flood waters.

The situation continues threatening, but there are no reports today of breaks in the Mississippi levees and the engineers who are directing the army of thousands of laborers in the hard fight again express hope.

Hard Hail Fall. Hard rains fell last night and this morning all along the river as far north as Torras and showers continued throughout the day. In the face of these conditions today's labor did not count vastly in the fight that is being waged against the flood stage. The negroes refused to work in the rain unless furnished a generous supply of whiskey and even then they could do very little.

LIVES IN PERIL.

By The Associated Press.

New Roads, La., May 6.—The water from the Torras crevasse is rising so rapidly over the country south of here that the people are in immediate danger of losing their lives, according to information reaching here tonight. The small relief parties are working day and night, but they cannot get the inhabitants out fast enough.

At Ratchelor, 12 miles south of the crevasse, the water is coming up with a rush and that town will have to be abandoned within the next few hours.

Woman Marooned. The waters are rushing over the fields, sweeping houses and trees away. About five hundred people were brought here today from the overflowed territory, being found in cotton gins and all high buildings. One old woman told how she was overtaken while at work in a field by the flood and before she could reach her home was cut off from escape. She had remained there since Saturday, with six feet of water in her home and without food.

PASSES APPROPRIATION.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 6.—The senate late today passed the $1,239,179 flood appropriation.

A bill to appropriate $30,000,000 for maintaining, raising and protecting the levees of the Mississippi and its tributaries was introduced in the house today.

A bill to appropriate $100,000 for the purchase of seeds for the flood devastated Mississippi valley was introduced and referred to committee on agriculture.

More of Titanic Died of Exposure Than Were Drowned

By The Associated Press.

Halifax, May 6.—Only one of the seventeen persons whose bodies were recovered by the cable ship Minia, in the vicinity of the Titanic tragedy, died from drowning, in the opinion of the ship's physician. The other sixteen perished from exposure in the water some four hours after the vessel sank.

This statement was made on the authority of the Rev. H. W. Cunningham, rector of St. George's church, who accompanied the Minia on her quest.

"Of the 17 bodies recovered, 15 were brought to port, the other two, bodies of unidentified firemen, being buried at sea."

CAMPAIN FOR HOT WELL SUBSCRIPTIONS STARTS

TEAM CAPTAINS HOLD MEETING MONDAY, SOLICITORS TO BEGIN WORK AT ONCE.

A meeting of the team captains of the hot well committee, who were selected to direct the soliciting campaign for stock subscriptions for the sinking of the hot well, was held Monday morning, when plans and ways and means of raising the required amount of stock for the enterprise were discussed at length. It was decided to begin the campaign of raising the required amount of stock at the earliest possible moment. A committee will probably be started out this morning. It is thought that the solicitors will have no difficulty in raising the required amount of cash, since the people here have been anxious by the most reliable and conservative scientists in the state and elsewhere that the hot, health-giving waters will be struck at a depth of from 2500 to 3300 feet below the surface.

The bringing in of the hot well will mean the greatest upward step, the greatest stride in the direction of commercial supremacy ever taken by a Texas city. It will mean the coming of mammoth hotels, sanitariums and a great increase in population. Here in Waco will be built the ideal health and recreation resort, where the health-seeker and tired business man from the north and east will find rest and health. It will also mean a paying proposition for those fortunate investors who know a good thing and were wise enough to take a good sized block of stock in the hot well company.

The hot well will be sunk.

TWO CONVENTIONS IN ARKANSAS TODAY

Believed Republicans of the State Will Name Two Delegations to National Convention.

By The Associated Press.

Little Rock, Ark., May 6.—It became apparent here late tonight that the republicans of Arkansas will hold two separate state conventions tomorrow, one to be attended by supporters of President Taft and the other by Colonel Roosevelt's adherents. A committee of delegates named after the meeting of the Roosevelt republican league of Arkansas tonight will, it is stated to a representative of the Associated Press, arrange for the temporary organization of the convention which will be attended by Roosevelt's friends. Each convention will name delegates at large to the republican national convention.

Two republican districts elected delegates today, one at Camden and the other at Little Rock, both meeting in separate halls and claiming regularity, and tonight the Roosevelt Republican League of Arkansas held a mass meeting.

FOLLOWED IN T. R.'S WAY EXCEPT ONCE SAYS TAFT

Followed Roosevelt Administration Save in Passing Up Harvest, Asserted.

By The Associated Press.

Cincinnati, May 6.—Under heavy skies that frequently apt rain, President Taft campaigned throughout southern Ohio today. He made ten speeches, many of them in a heavy downpour. From the time he crossed the Ohio river into his home state the president continued to tell his hearers why he broke silence and attacked Roosevelt.

Refers to Lincoln. On several occasions Taft brought up Mr. Roosevelt's references to Lincoln. "Mr. Roosevelt claims, apparently, a patent right on Abe Lincoln," he said. "I ask you whether Abe Lincoln would have treated an opponent as he has done me. Mr. Roosevelt charges me with being subject to the control of special privileges. I deny it. I have prosecuted every trust and every railroad and every leading man, whether it be Dan Hanna or Mr. Gary, the heart of the steel trust. I have followed the administration of Theodore Roosevelt in his policies in every respect but one—and that one was that I directed the prosecution of the steel trust and also the prosecution of the harvest trust."

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, May 6.—Gov. West Texas—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

East Texas—Showers Tuesday and probably Wednesday.

Oklahoma—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday, not much change in temperature.

MARYLAND GOES FOR CLARK AND ROOSEVELT

COLONEL LEADS TAFT BY VOTE OF 66 TO 63 DELEGATES ON FULL COUNT.

Speaker Defeats Wilson 72 to 44, With Harmon Getting 4; Primary Is Binding.

By The Associated Press.

Baltimore, Md., May 6.—Maryland's sixteen votes in the national conventions will be cast for Theodore Roosevelt and Speaker Champ Clark. The few election districts still to be heard from change the result registered today at the state's first presidential primaries. The result was close and Colonel Roosevelt on the face of the returns had but one more than the number of votes necessary to control the state convention.

How Vote Stands. The primaries divided the delegates to the state convention as follows: Republicans, Roosevelt 66, Taft 63; democrats, Clark 72, Wilson 44, Harmon 4; in doubt 9.

Majority necessary to control convention, 65.

The state delegates elected are bound to choose a delegation to the national convention favorable to the presidential candidate for whom the people today expressed their preference.

Speaker Clark led steadily from the first returns, received from the Baltimore wards.

WILSON LEADS IN S. C.

By The Associated Press.

Columbia, S. C., May 6.—County conventions were held all over South Carolina today to select delegates to the democratic state convention which meets here next week. Only four counties so far reporting instructed their delegates for Governor Wilson. In three others Wilson's candidacy was endorsed. Nowhere was there any official vote for any other candidate than the New Jersey governor.

CO-OPERATION
REPORTED ON*TAFT SENDS CONGRESS FINDINGS AS TO SYSTEM IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.*Rising Cost of Living Abroad Augments Membership of Societies Shown.

Up The Associated Press.

Washington, May 6.—President Taft today sent to congress the second installment of the reports of consular officers on plans of co-operation and the cost of living which are the result of the investigation he made some time ago directed should be made. The countries included in this installment are France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Denmark. The reports are accompanied by a letter from Huntington Wilson, acting secretary of state.

It appears from the information collected, the acting secretary says, that the rising cost of living has directed attention to and augmented the membership of the co-operative societies more especially in Belgium and France. The French co-operative associations are in the main arranged upon the same system as those in the United Kingdom. The tendency is toward small societies and the great majority of the associations represent groceries and bakeries. The most successful distributive societies are in the manufacturing cities of northeastern and central France. Among these societies relief funds are administered and insurance against illness and forced non-employment is supplied. Arrangements are made with dentists, doctors and artisans for their services by members on a commission basis.

France Friendly.

The operation of the agricultural societies has been especially successful in southern France. The French government has given encouragement to these societies by furnishing expert advice, granting subventions, and permitting long-time loans by agricultural credit associations. The general buying is done principally through district unions. High-grade farm machinery such as is beyond the reach of many individual farmers is purchased from the surpluses or is loaned gratuitously or upon the payment of nominal fees.

Government employees are to a large extent organized into co-operative societies. Many of the associations are affiliated with labor unions that restrict their membership to persons engaged in a given occupation.

In regard to industrial co-operative production it appears that plants owned and operated by the operatives are not uncommon in France. In Lyons, for instance, the enterprise is conducted by societies composed of their own operatives, including printing and engraving, building, plumbing, tailoring, weaving, tanning, carpentering, paper hanging, the making of pasteboard boxes and the making of metallic furniture.

Keep Prices Level.

The consular reports state that the French co-operative societies usually sell at prices which are neither higher nor lower than those of private stores, and that they have a tendency to keep prices throughout the district where they are located down to a fair level as well as to enhance the purity and quality of the goods. The degree of reduction in the cost of living is almost wholly contingent upon the capability and the alacrity of the management of the respective districts.

Only Members Buy.

In Belgium, the consular reports state, a large proportion of the co-operative societies sell at prices that are lower than those of the regular markets, allowing only members to purchase, and have only nominal profits to distribute. Many societies guarantee a 6 per cent dividend on all purchases and distribute all remaining profits to various funds for insurance, pensions, strike relief, indemnities for injury and the like. The consular reports state that the virtual beginning of the general co-operative movement in Belgium is said to have been due to the growth of the various socialistic and labor parties in 1880 and the years following. The socialistic societies are reported to have no affiliation with the International Co-operative alliance. The development of many of the agricultural co-operative societies has been aided very greatly by the clerical party, the league of church societies comprising 480 associations.

Cash Basis Maintained.

In the Netherlands the co-operative movement has had its largest growth since 1890. The associations include domestic supplies, agricultural supplies, creameries, farmers' loan banks, and savings banks. A cash basis is strictly maintained. The annual dividends returned to the purchasers average between 8 and 10 per cent. Arrangements are made with dentists, doctors and merchants sell goods which the society does not handle, to give the society a commission on business done with its members.

In Denmark sales are confined to members of the co-operative societies unless the latter wish to subject themselves to taxation. The joint association of Danish co-operative societies operates numerous factories and warehouses throughout Denmark. At present the average dividends range from 5 to 12 per cent. The statement is made in the consular reports that the prices charged by private dealers are kept down.

EVANGELIA SETTLEMENT.

Hearty endorsement of the proposal to enlarge the Evangelia Settlement, and a committee organized to push the campaign before the citizens at once was the outcome of a luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at noon yesterday. Some fifty representative men appreciated heartily the spread given by the ladies of the Evangelia board, and then called to order by Dr. Barton; heard terse speeches from Dr. Witsell, John F. Rowe and W. J. Neale. The latter reported a thorough inspection of the plant and plan of the settlement in conjunction with several other men, and praised it highly as worthy of the public backing of Waco. He said that $20,000 ought to be put into that work at once, but the women are more modest and have a plan for securing a good, modern home for $8,000 or $10,000. This is to be done by purchasing some properties with houses and adding a house that has been donated.

Several gentlemen expressed their willingness to start the subscriptions at a $250 amount. Then a committee was organized to call on Waco citizens promptly and raise the money. This committee, headed by John F. Rowe, will meet at 9 o'clock this morning at the Y. M. C. A. and proceed to business.

"The greatest menace to our country today is the raising of the children in the streets."

"This is not strictly a commercial enterprise but is worth as much to the life of our city as any of the big propositions that have been pulled off."

These are some of the sentiments that were applauded at the luncheon.

INCREASE IN FURNITURE FREIGHT RATES HELD UP

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE BY TARIFF BUREAU. BENEFIT GREAT.

News has just been received at the office of the Waco freight bureau, from Washington, to the effect that the advance in carload rates on furniture from all points in the United States to Texas points, amounting to six cents per cwt., and which was scheduled in recently published tariff of southwestern lines to become effective with May 7, have been suspended until September 3, pending an inquiry by the Interstate commission into their reasonableness.

Commenting on the above, J. C. Lillard, traffic manager of the Waco freight bureau, said: "The action of the Interstate commission in suspending the proposed advance, may be regarded as quite an important victory, upon the part of manufacturers, Texas shippers, and the several Texas traffic bureaus at interest in the protest—since the presumption is that the commission in the preliminary investigation has failed to discover the justice, propriety, or reasonableness in the advanced rates. As early as March 27, and before the southwestern lines' tariffs containing the proposed changes had been distributed in Texas, a meeting of interested Waco shippers was called in the office of the freight bureau, at which meeting it was decided to formulate a vigorous protest to this proposition, which decision was promptly followed up by telegraphing our protest to the I. C. C. and by correspondence with that body and various traffic organizations and shippers throughout the country. By this means, it has been ascertained that both shippers and manufacturers all throughout the country are uniformly opposed to the advances and propose to fight the issue out to a finish with carriers before the I. C. C. and the courts if necessary."

"The formal hearing of the issue when the time and place shall have been announced, will probably be attended by R. T. Dennis, G. Stratton, and myself representing the shippers of Waco and this section of the state."

BAPTIST FUND THE SUBJECT OF MEETING

Texas Baptist Educational Commission Members Convene in Waco Friday.

Discussion of new dormitories for the school at Decatur, and for the Baptist school at Canadian, will be heard, as well as the advisability of offering a prize for the best book on "Christian Education."

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE.

Gay, formerly with McKinlin & McKinlin, is to have charge of the business affairs of the new enterprise. WACO READY TO WELCOME ONE THOUSAND GUESTS

Beginning last night and continuing through today there are arriving guests from every nook and corner of this vast state. These are assembling for the three days' session of the State Medical association. Of the program for the masculine phase, the woman's department has no connection, but the physicians are ever a social set of men, and their wives are pouring in with them. For weeks the local physicians' wives, with Mrs. Howard Lanham general chairman, have been planning and today their announcement shows much of an entertaining and in an acceptable way, too. Many homes are receiving guests, dinners en famille will fill in the early evening hours, there will be rides and other attentions to make a very full three days' for the women visitors. Mrs. Lanham announces the formal schedule of entertainment for the women, as follows:

Tuesday Afternoon, 4:30.

Assembling at the State House, there will be an automobile ride for the ladies over the city. There will be a stop at Cameron park for the first band concert of the season and an informal barbecue. Mrs. Joseph Ramsey Ferrell is chairman of the drive.

Wednesday, 9 to 7.

The local physicians' wives will receive in honor of the visitors on the roof of the Amicable building. At half after 4, assisted by some specially invited Waco women, the local physicians' wives will give a brilliant reception at the Huaco club.

Thursday, 10 O'Clock

There will be a morning musical at the Huaco club. The program is in charge of Mrs. J. W. Hale.

Alessandro's band, numbering more than thirty pieces, will give the concert at Cameron park. An especially good program is announced in the following:

1. March, "Cotton Palace"..... Greig
2. Suit from "Peer Gint"..... Verdi
3. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
4. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
5. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
6. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
7. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
8. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
9. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt
10. a. The Death of the Swan..... Liszt

"There will be no programs distributed, so it is expected that these will be clipped from The News, especially since the descriptive paragraphs will add materially to the enjoyment of the music. Until one has studied how the musician can not reach a full enjoyment. Wagner, it is known, could neither play nor sing. But he was both of a literary and a musical temperament, therefore he read, felt the emotion and translated that emotion into his notes. One must enter into the feeling, lose himself in the composer's emotion, and then he realizes what real music is."

In reviewing the program given, we see Alessandro has complimented the visitors with his own composition, which was received so cordially during the Cotton Palace season. He then goes into the Peer Gint suit. To enter into the spirit of the thing, we should know something of the soul emotions of Ibsen who wrote Peer Gint and we should seek to find the meaning in the strains here rendered. Especially is the second translation into a beautiful scene where Peer Gint is sitting beside his dying mother. He tells her that if she will only recover he will take her to the land of the beautiful, he will take her to the mountains, he will take her to the sea, he will take her to the sun and the stars. The mother looks at her son, her soul begins to take its flight; her words grow faint and fainter. The spirit of dying ecstasy is upon her, and she takes flight, leaving the heart-broken son bowed in grief. It is a delicious thing to watch the parting of that soul through the strains of the music.

One has to enter into the spirit of German life to follow the masterpiece from Suppe, which will be rendered in "Morning and Night in Vienna."

Then comes the ever popular Trovatore. Perhaps this opera of Verdi is better known and better loved than all the heavier compositions. In the arrangement which will be given on this program is the "Ah, I have Sighed to Rest Me," that soulful prison song which every singer gives and loves, the grand Anvil Chorus, and "The Tempest of the Heart." The story of Trovatore is rather complicated, embracing as it does the usual mistaken identity, and denouement. But that for which we love it is this: "Ah, I have Sighed to Rest Me." One can yet see the great contralto Schachli lying on her bed of rags, after the turmoil of life, alone, forsaken, yet rested from the turmoil of sin and suffering. The anvil chorus is an inspiration to every one who hears it, those heavy blows so harmonized as to give forth power and sweet tone. The "Tempest of the Heart" is sung towards the close of the opera when the young troubadour is standing before the church watching the flames which consume his mother. A tempest, indeed, rages in that heart and his emotion pours forth in song.

When it comes to The Star Spangled Banner, every soul who hears should be on his feet with bared head. This is how those who have lands honor their national song. But we of America are stolidly indifferent. When the first note sounds, there surges to memory the first line, "Oh, say, can you see by the dawn's early light?" At once we go to the poet on the Carolina coast and imagine Scott Francis Key awakening from his cot, his first thought on the flag which was in jeopardy when he retired at night. He was restless to know if his country's flag had gone down, but, no, it waved, and he gave vent to his patriotic enthusiasm in these verses which have immortalized him, and the only lines he ever wrote. Surely this was an inspiration from a Higher Source.

MRS. HOWARD LANHAM MAKES SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

As chairman in chief of the local physicians' wives, Mrs. Howard Lanham invites all citizens who have visiting physicians and their wives as household guests to participate in all the social courtesies paid the visitors.

MARRIED LADIES' BRIDGE PLAYS DEFERRED GAME

The Young Married Ladies' Bridge which was scheduled with Mrs. William Early for Tuesday night, was played a deferred game on Saturday. There was only the usual coming together with a favorite hostess and the award of two prizes for the leading score and high consolation cut. The first set of co-sponsors, Mrs. M. E. Colgin, and the second, a silver picture frame, by one of the guests, Miss Julia Kimball, of Koppel. The next game will be played this morning with Mrs. Adrian Moore on Franklin street.

ANNUAL EUTERPEAN SESSION WITH MISS AUTREY

The last Saturday program of the Euterpean program was given in the parlors of Miss Nettie Autrey on the South Side. This was also the occasion of changing officers for the new year. Mrs. Frank Trau was made president, Miss Mabel Quay and Miss Charlotte Smith, vice-presidents. Sybil Saunders and Nettie Autrey secretaries, with Miss Bianca McKenney re-elected treasurer. The new program will be arranged during the summer. In the meantime there will be prepared a special program for the spring festival complimentary to invited guests of the club. This will be at the home of Mrs. J. C. Ray, who has but who was reported improving. Miss Autrey introduced a clever little musical contest as her diversion. There was a tie between Mrs. B. H. Ryan, the latter winning a booklet in the cut. The next meeting will be on Saturday with Mrs. Ella Lovelace, 1309 South Seventh street. The program for Saturday was rather impromptu and very enjoyable. Miss Quay has made a very acceptable president and was impromptu for re-election, but her exacting duties in the school room forced her to decline.

MRS. J. W. WHITWORTH AT HOME FOR BRIDGE PARTY

Saturday afternoon found a jolly bridge company with Mrs. J. W. Whitworth on West Washington. Miss Lanna Mitchell of El Paso, as her guest of honor. The invitations also repaid card courtesies to the hostess during the now closing season. The rooms were literally a bower of roses, massed each in its own color for the several rooms. The punch room was reserved for the now favorite Richmond to make a striking effect with the golden table cloth which first did service for the celebration of the golden wedding of Mrs. Whitworth's mother. On this were grouped vases of the red rose, quite a novel and taking effect. At the close of the game adjournment was held here for a general exchange of pleasantries and the passage of the punch cup with the sandwich tray. The count in scores found the prizes going to Mrs. A. W. Koch, who presented her trophy to Miss Mitchell, and to Mrs. R. T. Crawford. Those present were: Mesdames J. S. Hill, Ed Drake, Edwin Drake, Lee Cowan, Ralph Turner, Lon Sparks, C. N. Clisbee, Robert Tolson, Cullen Cooper, Alfred Edwards, H. K. Brewer, J. C. Ray, O. H. Weisinger, George Tod, Robert Coleman, Frank Wells, Ed Laughlin, John Dockery, W. A. Parker, W. P. Beaumont, Cornett, J. L. Whitworth, Shel Sparks, Misses Mitchell, Queen Barnett and Frances Luedde.

THE LITERARY CLUB GIVES ROSE LUNCHEON

It is no point for argument as to whether the beautiful noon affair of the Literary Club were a lunch or a luncheon. That point is often questioned as to the difference between the two meals, and the answer, a lunch is the unpretentious, informal noon day meal while the luncheon is the affair of form and beauty. This characterizes the Literary Club's courtesies to special friends as altogether a luncheon, and that with a decided accent. It was a delightful affair amid delightful arrangements and beautiful appointments. The place of flowers, is certainly queen of this season, and the choicest picking from the garden bushes was made for decorative purposes. The resistance on the cushion which covered the shelf niche between the stairways. The mantels were treated and other points of vantage in the room were adorned with flowers. In the grill room small tables had been arranged for guests and on each the rose sat enthroned in vase and bowl. The place cards were lettered in the purple and blue of the club colors. Each member had been privileged one guest, the company reaching to the half hundred. Several out-of-town guests were present. There was a stroll over the club after the luncheon with music from Mrs. B. B. McKenney and Mrs. Silas Newton in the music room; some took the beautiful view of the country in its spring dress, some chatted about the veranda, and all complimented the literary club upon its delightful affair.

This is the first of the formal functions to mark the close of the local club year. The names on the place cards were: Mesdames R. G. Patton, H. B. Mistro, H. K. Brewer, Walter Reese, W. M. Foster, R. L. Cartwright, Allan Sanford, W. N. Orand, Werner of Dallas, James Mackey, B. B. McKenney, Joseph C. H. H. Park, J. T. Strain, Charles Langhorne, R. B. Spencer, Crans of Fort Worth, Cochran of Walnut Springs, H. C. Lindsey, J. W. Hale, Llewellyn Aubrey, Mordis Walker, Webb of Albany, Mitchell, Nash, Silas Newton, W. S. Plunkett, Frank Allen, M. B. Willis, Wallace Riviere, Forest Goodman, J. B. Powell, D. W. Pogue, K. A. McKinney, J. N. Gallagher, Paul Montgomery of Oklahoma, J. W. Orand, H. C. Risher, George Willis, T. A. Caulfield, Edward Rotan, Willcox, Sleeter, W. Downs, Richard Munroe, W. W. Phelan, S. P. Brooks, W. H. Pool, E. R. Nash, Jr., Harry Lee Spencer, William Talley.

Society Notes.

The next few days will find the announcement of a South Side groom who goes to a neighbor town for his bride.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coblenz with Miss Coblenz is an event in the social world today. They return to the former home in Illinois.

One can almost feel the odor of camphor in the air. It is the season for assorting and storing the furs, the winter garments, and so on. Along with this prosaic subject comes something new for society women. Perhaps some have been the advance guard but the many have yet to get the "Tag" habit. This is a wonderful convenience, that of having merchant tags put upon each package, so that identification may be immediate when the winter brings the distribution of these packages through the several rooms.

The school board has shown confidence in Miss Azalea Pickoke's ability by making her successor of Professor Ferguson as principal of the South Side School. This is, however, only for the unexpired term, as it is the avowed policy of the board for men principals. The compliment to Miss Pickoke is none the less marked.

The Sam Sanger home on West Washington is far enough advanced to show that it will be a modern and handsome residence, one of the most up-to-date in the city.

Last week in Louisville occurred something which should be copied. There is a local poet who has been writing verses for twenty-five years. His anniversary was celebrated by the presentation from his fellow citizens of a silver loving cup and tributes in prose and poetry from contemporary writers, such as James Whitcomb Riley, William Dean Howells, and others.

It is understood that another season will find Professor Shaffer, now of Baylor University, in Fort Worth. His absence will create a decided void in music circles. The women have long since come to regard Mr. Shaffer the friend in need of their programs. His unfailing courtesy and more appreciated talent will be more than missed.

Remember, when our out-of-town guests are here, to be on the outlook for the opportunity to be courteous. These may come as Knights of Pythias or medics, but they are the guests of every single soul in Waco.

The press may argue as it pleases the proper meaning of the word groom, but the society parlance will continue it as good form for a wedding. All the best wishes and authorities in the country sustain the use. It is seldom "bridalroom" except in a first mention. The argument has held that a groom keeps the stable horses and that a bridegroom accompanies his bride. Where do we get all our words? From social sanction in their usage. Society sanctions the abridgment for social purposes just as we speak of a phone telephone. So, when a "bridalroom" is called a "groom" instead of taking offense, we may feel that he has accorded a term which the best society of the land recognizes.

Keats never framed a term more applicable in advance of the reality when he said "A good beauty is a joy forever," as applied to Cameron Park this spring.

Mesdames J. J. Durham and B. H. Hill, of Terrace Row, were picnic chaperones on Saturday to a party of guests invited for a day's outing with Miss Olga Durham.

For the first time in the history of Decoration Day there was a parade of floats. This means that the Lost Cause is not forgotten memory by any means.

Mrs. R. J. Alexander of Columbus street, is the incoming president for the Review Club.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Davis, Jr., are preparing to take final leave of their Waco friends. They reside in Denison, and will play a golf tour goes with middle May. Mr. Davis left on Monday.

UNION MEMBER 25 YEARS BANQUETS MANY FRIENDS

J. WILL MOORE ALSO CELEBRATES LINOTYPE SERVICE.
HAS TYPE UNION RECORD.

Celebrating his twenty-fifth anniversary as a member of the International Typographical union, J. Will Moore, president of Waco local No. 188, entertained a number of his friends last night with an elaborate dinner and course of refreshments at the Central Deutscher Verein. Mr. Moore has the distinction of being the youngest member with the oldest membership of his union, having joined on May 5, 1887. At that time, union rules provided that all members should be 21 years of age. He was barely 14, but the rules were not so strictly enforced then. Mr. Moore also celebrated last night his nineteenth anniversary as a linotype operator.

Included among his guests were Waco printers, newspaper men and publishers, and the evening was one such as only those allied with the business can appreciate. Business cares were forgotten and there was much "shop talk" that was thoroughly appreciated. J. J. Hutchison was toastmaster and short speeches were made by George Robinson, C. H. Tupper, G. B. Cady, T. D. Whiteman, W. B. Knight, W. L. Millett and Ed Pickett, all of whom congratulated Mr. Moore upon his anniversary and upon his approaching birthday, May 19, when he will be 39 years of age. A telegram of congratulation from Charles W. Johnstone and other friends in Galveston, where the host worked for a number of years, also was read.

Following the dinner and during the refreshment course, Mr. Moore reviewed his union record and gave a few pertinent facts relative to the Typographical union and its accomplishments. On May 1, 1887, four days before he joined, there were 20,588 members affiliated with 240 unions. At the present time, there are 700 unions and over 60,000 members. He described the old age benefits, mortuary fund and the plans of the union toward bettering its condition. The printers' home in Colorado Springs was also the subject of considerable talk and the care provided for incapacitated members was commendable from all angles. Mr. Moore also gave some pertinent facts relative to the linotypes in operation today, and it may be interesting to know that over 1000 patents pertain to that machine.

Mr. Moore learned "the cases" in Waco under the direction of P. A. Richards, who was unable to attend the banquet last night. Other guests were E. R. Johnson, T. D. Whiteman, G. B. Cady, D. R. Cooper, W. M. Johnson, C. D. Carley, A. R. Carley, G. W. Johnson, W. L. Millett, H. C. McIntyre, H. J. Rauber, W. J. Stillwell, J. A. Somers, H. I. Hunter, G. J. Glenn, Ed Pickett, George Robinson, Ollie Bybee, L. H. Daross, Edward Hancock, R. O. Spencer Jr.

COMPENSATION BILL PASSES THE SENATE

LABOR MEASURE FRAMED BY LIABILITY COMMISSION, GOES THROUGH AFTER FIGHT.

Is Outcome of Long Investigation and Strongly Urged by the President.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, May 6.—The workmen's compensation bill was passed in the senate today 64 to 15, substantially as framed by the employers' liability commission and amended only to increase its benefits. The measure, sharply fought by some of the demerits for several days, now goes to the house. A number of amendments were offered but only a few were accepted.

To Continue.
The principal changes made during the three hours of roll calls provide that compensation for accidental injuries and death of railroad employees shall continue to children until they are 16 years old and would extend payment in the case of daughters until they are 20 unless they marry before that age.

In general the bill would provide an exclusive remedy and compensation for accidental disability or death to employees of railroads in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia on the theory of insuring each employee against results of injury in employment without reference to contributory negligence of any of the rules of common law limiting employers' liability. It would provide medical services for the injured and means for money recovery proportioned to the pay of the victim. It is the outcome of a long investigation by the commission and was strongly urged by President Taft.

ARCHIBALD PROBE TO BEGIN TODAY

Whether Judge Will Be Allowed to Question Witnesses to Be Determined.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, May 6.—Investigation of charges against Judge R. W. Archibald, of the commerce court, will be undertaken tomorrow by the house committee on judiciary. Papers in the case sent to the committee from the department of justice will be examined and it is expected E. J. Williams of Scranton, Pa., will appear as the first witness.

One of the things to be taken up by the committee at the outset will be whether Judge Archibald will be invited to participate in the inquiry and be given the right to question witnesses. There are precedents for such a course. Some members think Judge Archibald should not be asked to appear because the committee will be in opposition much the same as a grand jury. Chairman Clayton is inclined to this view.

FIRST COMMUNION FOR CHILDREN CELEBRATED

Bishop Gallagher of Galveston Conducts Special Services at Waco.

First communion by 80 children, when they received the eucharistic sacrament from Rt. Rev. N. A. Gallagher, bishop of Galveston, was followed Sunday at the Church of the Assumption by solemn high mass at 10:30 o'clock, at which he also presided. He was assisted by Father E. A. Kelly of the Church of Assumption, and Father M. J. Crowe of Galveston.

Rev. J. T. Finnigan, C. S. B., was celebrant of the mass; Rev. J. P. Sharpe, deacon; Paul Kelly, sub-deacon; Rev. M. J. Crowe, master of ceremonies; Very Rev. T. F. Glendon, and Rev. E. J. O'Neill, C. S. B., deacons of honor to the bishop. Revs. J. Kennedy, C. S. B., and E. A. Kelly were in the sanctuary during the mass. The blessing at the close of the mass was imparted by Bishop Gallagher.

A pleasing musical program marked the last mass in the afternoon. The evening rain caused a postponement of enrolling the communicants in the scapular of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, which will probably be held at the Church of the Assumption Sunday.

COMMENDS SUNDAY CLOSING

Editor Waco Morning News:
Kindly allow me to express publicly my hearty endorsement of the resolutions passed by the congregation of the First Baptist church and published in The News, Monday, protesting against the opening of the Cotton Palace on Sundays. I believe such practice is strong in principle and baneful and demoralizing in influence.
As a legal citizen, truly desiring Waco's substantial and permanent progress in every way, I earnestly covet the pleasure of being able to support without qualifications, all means and methods for her development. Such satisfaction will be derived by the continuation of the Sunday opening. This matter would indeed be of no matter were it the sentiment of one or few only, but it is apparently the conviction and judgment of a large number of our best stalwart citizens, and I, for one, trust that the board of directors will not disregard the protest made in the kindest sort of spirit. It seems that there is now ample time to arrange matters in such a way as not to offend the principles and sentiments of a large body of our zealous and respectable constituents.

Houston 5, Dallas 4.

By The Associated Press.
Houston, May 6.—In twelve innings replete with good and bad baseball, good maneuvering and poor handling of the clubs, Houston defeated Dallas here today 5 to 4. An error, a sacrifice, a clean hit and an infield tap gave the locals the winning run. Curiously enough it was bad base-running by Houston that helped them to score. In the eighth Davis forced Britton to try for the plate when he seemed a sure out, and Forsythe let him walk in on him.

CHEMICAL AUTO SCARES HORSE; BUGGY OVERTURNS

During an inspection tour of the six fire stations of the city, made in the chemical auto Monday afternoon, a horse driven by Abe Hollis and Jennette Perkins, became frightened at the machine at the Eleventh street-Katy crossing, and the buggy was overturned. Chief Prescott immediately stopped the chemical and rushed to where the couple had been thrown when the buggy struck a corner of a box car standing near the crossing. They escaped injury. The slight damage to the harness was soon repaired and the inspection tour was soon continued without further incident. Chief Prescott reported the various stations in excellent condition.

COTTON GROWERS ARE URGED TO ORGANIZE

SOUTHERN DEALERS TO MEET IN NEW ORLEANS TO FORM STATE ASSOCIATIONS.

W. C. Lawson, Chairman of Committee, and Others, Issue Circular on Subject.

Compilation of data relative to the growing of cotton crops this year, and trade information, provisions for which were made at a recent meeting in Dallas, will be discussed at a meeting of cotton men at New Orleans, May 15, at which time the cotton bills of lading question is scheduled for another hearing. At the meeting in Dallas, W. C. Lawson of Waco, was appointed chairman of the active committee, and in a circular issued from Waco by Mr. Lawson, who is also president of the Texas Cotton Association; W. L. Clayton, president of the Oklahoma State Cotton Exchange, and S. W. King, Jr., of Dallas, president of the Dallas Cotton Exchange, it is recited:

"At a conference of representatives of various cotton exchanges, shippers and others allied with the cotton business, recently held at the opening of the new cotton exchange building at Dallas, the benefits shown as having resulted from and to accrue to the trade through the organized workings of the State Cotton Association, were so apparent and numerous that it was proposed and a movement inaugurated to encourage the organization of such associations in all cotton states where they do not exist, and for the federation of same."

"It was the idea expressed that each state association should deal with local matters, and that the federation or central organization should handle interstate, international and other matters effecting the trade as a whole, and be a medium through which members in the different states could report or obtain valuable and reliable information concerning the general welfare of the business."

"At this conference, a fund was subscribed to guarantee the preliminary expense of organization and maintenance of the federation or central organization. To consider the matter fully and definitely, it was determined to call a conference of cotton shippers and merchants, to be held at New Orleans on the same date, May 15, on which will be held the conference between shippers and others concerning the matter of clean bills of lading, agents' and masters' receipts, etc. Accordingly, the undersigned, representing all cotton shippers, merchants, exchanges and associations of the south to be present or represented at this conference in New Orleans on May 15, 1912, and as soon as possible in advance thereof, to advise W. C. Lawson, chairman, at Waco, Texas, whether it is your intention to do so."

CLARK-WILSON CLASH IN CONVENTION DELAYED

COMING OUR WAY.

L. H. Chaterton, of the San Antonio Development Company, arrived in Waco yesterday from Moody, where he bought a farm. Speaking about San Antonio, Mr. Chaterton said the place is next to be picked up here during the next few years. When a man reaches middle life, his life insurance usually is added to yearly, and I'm here doing business with the home office."

COUNTY CONVENTIONS

MEET IN WACO TODAY

WILSON PREDOMINATES WITH DEMOCRATS—ROOSEVELT AND TAFT SENTIMENT IS SPLIT.

The McLennan county democratic convention will be held in the blue room at the city hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The republicans' county convention will also hold forth at the blue room at 10 o'clock this morning. E. C. Street will preside over the democratic convention, while Dr. J. R. Ferrell is chairman of the republicans' meeting.

According to the returns from the democratic precinct primaries, which were held throughout the county Saturday, it will be decided by a Woodrow Wilson affair. It is understood that a resolution to the state convention will be introduced at the convention tomorrow asking that Wilson be the nominee of the Texas party. A similar Woodrow Wilson resolution was voted on at the precinct primary in the second ward, and carried unanimously.

While Harmon and Clark have a number of enthusiastic supporters in the city and in other parts of the county, the sentiment seems very strong for the New Jersey governor.

The republicans in McLennan county appear to be very much divided between Taft and Roosevelt, with the chances slightly in favor of Taft, according to the precinct primaries Saturday.

A future date will be announced.

DOG TEAMS AND DRIVER ARRIVE FROM ALAMO TOWN

Ely A. Smith and brother, who started Nov. 14, 1906, from Cape Nome, Alaska, in a small cart drawn by a team of dogs, arrived in the city Monday afternoon with their strange and interesting caravan. There were nine teams of dogs in the party, all very fine specimens of St. Bernard and other breeds of canines noted for their strength and endurance. Mr. Smith stated that he "makes" only the county seats, and larger cities in each state, where he exhibits his trained dogs at a local theater. He failed to perfect arrangements for an exhibition here, and he said last night that he and his party would move on to Austin, which is destined to be his next stop in Texas.

REVOLVER CAUSES ARREST

When Constable Leslie Stegall and Deputy Joe Roberts searched Nathan Garner, negro, Monday morning, the officers say they found a 44-caliber revolver snugly reposing in a hip pocket of his trousers. He was promptly locked up in the county jail and a charge of carrying a pistol was registered against him. The arrest was made near the old oil mill in East Waco.
